

COMMUNITY COLLABORATIONS

With the continued support of our community, in 2022 we expanded our partnerships and collaborations. This included a stronger relationship with the Liverpool Central School District, resulting in StoryWalks™, classroom visits, shared resources, and more. Additionally, we partnered with many community businesses for our annual Haunted Halloween Garage.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR DIRECTOR

It gives me great pleasure to present Liverpool Public Library's annual Impact Report. In 2022, the LPL engaged our community through our commitment to experiential and participatory learning and we continued to foster collaborations and connections for all ages.

We launched the LPL2Go Tech Van and offered more programs for children and teens, with an emphasis on early literacy and science, technology, engineering and math (STEM). We increased accessibility with the installation of hearing loops in our meeting rooms and at our information desks.

We look forward to continuing the positive momentum for the remainder of 2023 and beyond. Thank you to our loyal patrons, volunteers, and community partners for inspiring us to grow in our mission and outreach.

Susan Reckhow
Liverpool Public Library Director

LPL IN THE COMMUNITY - THE LPL2GO TECH VAN

The LPL2Go Tech Van allows us to bring WiFi, printing, hotspots, laptops and tech-based activities, along with books and other library services, right to our community. So far, the LPL2Go Van has visited many locations throughout the Liverpool community, including local food pantries, schools, parks, restaurants, cafes and more.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS FOR ALL

The LPL offers a full complement of early literacy programs, and this year was no exception. For 2022, over 300 children signed up for 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten, a program that encourages children and parents to read together. We also expanded our diverse and inclusive programming, with programs such as Sensory Story Time, Toddler Toy Time and Spanish Story Hour.

The LPL has increased our participatory learning opportunities for children, tweens, and teens, with a variety of hands-on and STEM focused programs, such as Edison Robots, Podcasting and an Engineering Development Project.

The LPL is proud of the strong relationship we have with the homeschooling community, and our programming continues to reflect this. At the start of the 2022 school year, we offered a back to school program for our homeschool students and families. The program was an immense success, as students were given the chance to have their school photo taken for the first time, interact with other homeschool children, share new ideas, and more.

We're proud to offer a variety of programming that is focused on the interests of our community. From community nights to art classes and lectures, we strive to adapt to the latest trends and offer programs tailored to our community.

NEW INITIATIVES

With funding from the NYS Assembly and Assemblywoman Pam Hunter, the LPL acquired a Charlie Cart- a self-contained mobile teaching kitchen. With the Charlie Cart, the LPL will be able to offer programs focused on food literacy and education, while also celebrating our diversity through food.

To further our commitment to accessibility, we installed hearing loops at the Information @ LPL Desk, the Children's Room desk, the Carman Community Room and Sargent Room. The loops allow our patrons with hearing devices to better enjoy and participate in library services and programs.
