

Confidentiality of library records is covered in NY CLS § 4509 (2001).

Privacy and confidentiality protections are part of library procedures. The library protects the privacy and confidentiality of children as well as adults.

The library collects only that personally identifiable information about users that is needed for the functioning of the library and its Web site. The library retains personally identifiable information about users only as long as it is needed for library functions.

The library does not disclose or distribute users' names, postal addresses, e-mail addresses, phone numbers, borrower records, computer use records or other personal information to outside parties unless required to do so pursuant to subpoena, court order or where otherwise required by law, or needed for the proper functioning of the library. The library will examine any such process, order, or subpoena to determine that a proper showing of good cause has been made in a court of competent jurisdiction.
